What if I need something else?

Each package is designed to cover the most common needs of local businesses.

However, if when describing your idea or during development we identify that the project requires additional features not contemplated (such as more sections, special integrations, etc..), a customized re-evaluation of the scope and cost of the project can be made.

This is always discussed with clarity and anticipation, so that you have a fair, complete and adapted solution to what you really need, without surprises.
